If he is selling alcohol he needs a city permit or an ABC license. The event at Calmart was shut down for that same reason 3/4 weeks ago.

Private alleys are still considered public thoroughfares.

This guy - his guest (some) - think the alley is one giant urinal.

Hes a problem and now the police got wind of him.

He has a gallery in the same space as his store and hosts private events for opening receptions and that kind of thing. LAPD has shown up on various occasions and given him a hard time for having people hanging out in the private alley and cited him for serving alcohol even though it's a private event.

Hi Randall,

Pskaufman (in the alley at Werdin and 8th) is having an event tonight. He's been having issues with LAPD and I had told him to contact you. Did you ever hear from him?

Thanks,

Ariana
